Fly into, and depart from, New Zealand's gateway city of Auckland before making your way to Tauranga, New Zealand. From unspoiled rain forests and sub-tropical farmlands to the street-side cafés and the pristine white-sand coast, outdoor adventures are all the rage here. Continue to Christchurch, green and lush with an English veneer. Dunedin, your last port in New Zealand, has a rightly deserved reputation as one of the most well preserved Victorian and Edwardian cities in the southern hemisphere. Begin your exploration of Australia in the capital of the country's island state of Tasmania – Hobart, internationally renowned among the yachting community. In Melbourne, sport, fashion and festivals are top of mind. Disembark in Sydney, the most populous city in Australia, where you can visit the iconic Sydney Opera House, climb to the top of the Harbour Bridge, seek out artistic or water-sport ventures and so much more. With five days to enjoy at sea and scenic cruising of New Zealand's Fiordland National Park, this journey will fill your sails with a lifetime's worth of memories.
